CUSTOMIZED, PRIVATE TRAVEL IN

CENTRAL EUROPE

Habsburg Heartlands

Perfect combinations: strawberries and cream, beer and pretzels, Prague and Budapest, Vienna and Berlin. Even better is Budapest, Vienna, Prague and Berlin! These four jewels combine together to make the ultimate European vacation.

From the middle ages until the First World War, these Central European capitals were the very heartland of the enormous Habsburg Empire. We distill the best of the best and craft an itinerary showcasing the incredible history, architecture and culture, vibrant festivals and exciting food and wine scene.

Extraordinary Experiences

Experience the beauty of the Buda Hills, the Spanish Riding School in Vienna, art nouveau in Prague and the vibrancy of Berlin the Exeter way, with expert planning and inside knowledge - we connect you to people of interest and experiences of interest with insider access that no other company can provide. Traveling with Exeter International means traveling when you want, with whom you want and the way you want.

Budapest - A Tale of Two Cities

Majestic and grand, Budapest is an enchanting city, a hybrid of Paris and Vienna, but with her own very distinct Magyar character and personality. This really is a tale of two cities; the hills of Buda overlook the center of Pest, the most magnificent view from the Fisherman's Bastion. Between the two is the greatest river of the region - the Danube.

Do: A private boat tour of Budapest is always magical. If you have more time, go further afield for a day out on the Danube River Bend.

Be Extraordinary: Make your own Strudel at Gundel, Budapest's iconic historic restaurant, or take a VIP tour of the Budapest Opera House.

See: An outdoor performance at the theater on Margaret Island, located right in between Buda and Pest.

Stay: One of the most beautiful hotels in Europe, the Four Seasons Gresham Palace.

See more: Venture into the countryside and explore the wine region in Eastern Hungary or cross the now gone border to Slovakia and enjoy a day in Bratislava.

Vienna - Baroque Brilliance

The historic capital of the Habsburgs, Vienna has a sophistication and confidence not found elsewhere. Baroque and immaculate, the city is easy to navigate and has an almost overwhelming amount to see and do.

Do: Dedicate at least half a day to the stand-out Museum Quarter - once home to the imperial stables. Visit Schönbrunn Palace and Gardens, summer home to the imperial family and take in a performance at the Spanish Riding School.

Be Extraordinary: Take a Private vineyard tour with a 3rd generation vintner in the Wachau Valley, or try a Private waltz class.

See: Art, art, art. Like European masters? Kunsthistorisches has an amazing collection. Is Klimt your favorite? Don't miss Belvedere Palace!

Stay: At one of the world's last privately owned grand hotels - The Sacher.

See more: Let the sound of music lure you to Salzburg, one of the most picturesque of Austrian cities, and explore Mozart's birthplace and the nearby lake district.

Prague - Bohemian Masterpiece

Artistic, musical, individual and a little bit quirky, it is the city that everyone falls in love with at first sight. The city that premiered Don Giovanni at the Estates Theater has the most amazing music venues, from the stunning art nouveau Municipal House to the Spanish Synagogue, and is home to the Prague Spring Festival.

Do: Prague Castle, simply an outstanding collection of buildings from every period of architectural history. Meander in Old Town and discover the Jewish Quarter with the Old New Synagogue, Europe's oldest synagogue still in use.

Be Extraordinary: Take a private backstage tour of the Estates Theater or a VIP tour of the Strahov Monastery.

See: Any performance!

Stay: In a room with a view in the classical part of the Four Seasons.

See more: Let the Czech and Moravian countryside enchant you with its castles and vineyards. Spend a night at a former monastery in Cesky Krumlov. Taste the best of Moravian wines in Mikulov.

Berlin - Europe's New Cultural Capital

The largest and most modern of the four capital cities, Berlin has reinvented itself since reunification a quarter of a century ago. Each area has its own unique character, from the historical heart in Mitte to the hipster center of Kreuzberg.

Do: Immerse yourself in culture! With over 80 museums from contemporary art to WWII history.

Be Extraordinary: Private visit to the Boros or Hoffman collections.

See: A performance of the Berlin Philharmonic, it's one of the very best in the world.

Stay: Bask in contemporary luxury in the heart of Mitte at the Rocco Forte de Rome.

See more: Take a short train ride to Dresden and admire its renewal. The treasures of the Green Vault and the impressive collection of the Zwinger are simply unforgettable.
